

Appendix 2

Selection Criteria:

People Plaques

The person should have:

- Died at least 20 years ago and have been born more than a 100 years ago.
- Contributed to the rich social, political and cultural heritage of Perth or had been from Perth who impacted the world through their achievements, words or deeds.
- Made a major contribution to their field within a Scottish context as a minimum.

They should also have:

- Been born in Perth, or
- lived and worked in Perth for at least five years, or
- Made their discovery or achieved their accomplishment in Perth.

Place Plaques

Plaques commemorating an event, site or building should meet the following criteria.

The event should:

- Have occurred at least 50 years ago.
- Have impacted a significant number of Perth residents.
- reflect the rich social, political or cultural heritage of Perth.
- be specifically associated with the location at which the plaque is to be erected

The building or site should either:

- be of particular architectural importance.
- be historically important as a survival of a particular period
- have a connection with a series of historic events, or
- have a connection with a significant business or industry.

Location.

For People Plaques the location of the proposed plaque should be such that:

- the person was born or lived within the same building the plaque is to be fixed, or
- they worked there for a significant period (at least five years), or
- an existing and appropriate building on the site of the former building.

Where buildings have been radically altered or demolished, the term "On this site" is deemed appropriate.